Best of luck to Mayo on Sunday from The O'Malley Clan!

Mayo are back in with a shot of ending that famous football famine on Sunday next 17th September at Croke Park in Dublin, and We want to wish them all the best for the All-Ireland Final.

Its been a long wait since 1951 for the Green and Red of Mayo, hopefully all the O'Malley's in Mayo will be celebrating on Sunday evening!. (We know there's a lot of O'Malleys in Dublin too, but ye wouldn't begrudge Mayo one I'm sure)

Get in touch and share your O'Malley Heritage!

Have you got an article or old photographs that you'd like to submit for future editions of "O Máille" The O'Malley Clan Association Newsletter.

We'd love to hear from you wherever you're based around the world. Old photographs and stories to go with them, old letters, family trees or just an article that you'd like to share with the rest of the clan. Drop us a line and We'll get right to it!

Niamh O'Malley—Artist

Born Co Mayo, Ireland, 1975, Niamh O'Malley currently lives and works in Dublin, Ireland. She lectures in Fine Art at the Dublin School of Creative Arts, part of D.I.T.

O'Malley uses video, drawing, painting and sculpture, to examine ways in which we try to access the world through images. Her works often act as filters and invite us to enter the spaces between objects and places and our ideas of them.
